County Agent's Work.
What is Being Accomplished in Various Lines.

W. C. Kennedy, the Windham County Agent, with the help of K. R. Musser, Extension Service Dairy instructor, and Hugh Ferguson, Organizer of Cow Test Associations of the Dairy Division, U. S. Department of Agriculture, has completed the organization of a Cow Test Association in Windham County. This is the fourth to be organized in the state.

The organization meeting was held Saturday afternoon, June 26, in the new offices which the Farmers' Association is to share with the Putnam Chamber of Commerce over the post office in Union Block, Putnam, Conn.

Mr. Musser was present from the state college, and aided in the work of organizing. Mr. Simmons, who was hired for the work of keeping dairy records for the association received his training at the Agricultural college at Storrs, Conn., and is a man well qualified to take up work of this kind. He will begin work July 1st.

The Cow Test Association will be of permanent value to those who have true into it as the test keeps a complete record of each cow tested. This record shows the pounds of milk given, the percentage of butter fat in the milk, the pounds of butter the cow makes, the amount per pound of milk, or pound of butter, the amount returned by the animal for each dollar spent for food, and the total profit or loss for the year of the test.

This will enable dairymen to get rid of unprofitable cows, and will furnish a definite basis for placing a good price on one which proves profitable.

The tester will cooperate with the Windham County Farmers' Association in figuring ratings, and in giving advice about feedings.

New Quarters July 1st.
Beginning July 1, the Farmers' Association will be located permanently in new quarters with the Putnam Chamber of Commerce in the offices over the postoffice in Putnam.
